TOLLS FIGHT IS WAXING BITTER

Divided Democrats Widen Breach as Debate Proceeded in House Today

KNOWLAND SEES VICTORY FOR G. O. P. IN ELECTIONS

Little Doubt that Wilson Will Win Hands Down in Vote on Free Tolls Repeal

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Representative Knowland of California predicted today that the Republican party will regain control of Congress as a result of the split among the Democrats over the Sims repeal resolution. He said:

"The ranks of the opposition are badly shattered. This will mean a big advantage to the Republicans in the November elections. It is too bad that political capital has to be based on a proposition like the canal tolls, but it affects every American regardless of party. The solidarity of the Democratic party vanished when the President split with some of the brainiest leaders of the party. Solidarity is impossible when the President advocates an un-American policy."

POSITION TO REPEAL MEASURE FIGHTS BITTERLY

Supporters of the Sims repeal resolution are confident of victory in the House. The opposition, however, is fighting bitterly. The split in the ranks of the Democrats threatened to widen as the bitterness increased. The twenty-hour debate is expected to end on Tuesday afternoon. The proponents of the repeal of the canal tolls predict a majority of between 50 and 60 in the final vote.

VOTE MAY COME ON MONDAY

An all-day fight proceeded before the House of Representatives today on the president's canal repeal policy. The speakers are growing more bitter as the fight progresses. A vote is expected on Monday or Tuesday.

Representative Harrison praised Speaker Clark's stand against President Wilson, saying: "If the repeal is adopted I believe it will mark the beginning of the disruption of the Democratic party."

Stevens of Minnesota declared he was willing to follow the Democratic president "for the glory of the country." He was roundly applauded.

Representative Stevens warned the house: "Those who howl loudly for patriotism and demand that we do as we please with our own, forget the nation's history. For a century we have insisted upon equal treatment without discrimination for our citizens. Now it is proposed to repudiate our promises and reverse history."

FLOOD CONDITION IN NEW YORK STATE

Hudson is Rising—Merchants Move Goods—Rains Take Bridge Out

ALBANY, N. Y., March 28.—The Hudson River is rising rapidly today as a result of the warm weather of the last few days, which melted the snows. A steady rainfall has also aggravated conditions. Merchants along the Hudson are moving their goods as the river has assumed flood proportions. Part of the bridge spanning the Mohawk River at Amsterdam has been carried out. From Schenectady come reports that the Mohawk River is out of its banks and inundating a part of the city.

MANY TOWNS SUFFERING

BUFFALO, March 28.—Northwestern New York is in a critical condition today from floods resulting from two days of continuous rain. Boats are being used in the streets of Painted Post, Olean and Corning. Heavy damage is reported at Batavia, Lockport, Tonawanda, Pendleton and other points.

BOY LOSES LIFE IN HIGH WATER AT BRADFORD, PA.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 28.—Scores of families living in the low-lying districts here have been driven from their homes by the high water resulting from a thirteen-foot rise in the Conewango river. Samuel Grant, aged 14, lost his life in the flood.

SANTA ANA HAS LOWER PHONE TOLLS ASQUITH RISKS CABINET'S FUTURE

New Rates Based on Two-Minute Talks Went Into Effect

CONVERSATION EXPENSE IS GREATLY LOWERED

Old and New Long Distance Rates Between This City and Other Points Compared

New long-distance telephone rates, based on the State Railroad Commission's downward revision, went into effect Saturday, March 21, all over the state. Santa Ana has secured material reductions. The general reduction is 21 per cent and the talking unit of time is changed from one to two minutes. The total saving to the telephone users annually is estimated by the commission as $26,000. The change in the time minimum is held to be a benefit to the talking public, as the commission found from exhaustive data that the average length of a long-distance conversation is 1.89 minutes. The basis of charge is one-half a cent for each air line mile for two minutes, with a 50 per cent increase for each additional minute or fraction. The state is divided into zones for fixing the rates, the first zone being within a distance of 14 miles, and the zones being measured regularly every seven miles thereafter up to 300 miles, when the width of the zone is widened to 35 miles.

Formerly 15 per cent of the business of city exchanges was credited to local calls and the rest to long-distance. By order of the commission 39 per cent of such business hereafter must be credited to local switches. As an example of the reduction the rate for a two-minute conversation between Los Angeles and San Francisco was lowered from $2.50 to $1.80.

Santa Ana people may now hold two-minute conversations with towns in the 14-mile radius as follows: Fullerton, ten cents, formerly fifteen cents; Huntington Beach, ten, formerly fifteen cents; Newport, ten, formerly fifteen cents for one minute; Anaheim, ten, formerly fifteen cents.

Other adjustment of rates between Santa Ana and other Southern California points, all on the two-minute basis: San Diego, 40, was 50 cents for one minute; Los Angeles, 20, was 20 cents for three minutes; Long Beach, 15, was 45 cents for three minutes; Riverside, 20, was 20 cents for one minute; Corona, 15, was 25 cents for one minute; Redlands, 25, was 25 cents for one minute; Pasadena, 20, was 25 cents for three minutes.

BREWER SHOT NEGRO

FT. WAYNE, Ind., March 28.—Anthony Trentman, a wealthy brewer, was held in jail last night on a charge of having shot H. G. Bruce, a negro waiter at a local hotel.

Trentman told the police that he shot the negro because the waiter had treated his request for his overcoat in an indifferent manner. Bruce may die.

"HANDSOME" JACK KOETTERS SCORED—DEFENSE RESTS

CHICAGO, March 28.—The defense rested at noon today in the trial of "Handsome" Jack Koetters, accused of killing Mrs. Emma Kraft at the Saratoga Hotel. The state expected to occupy the afternoon in rebuttal. Koetters himself was the last witness. His cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Malato was one of the most savage ever heard in a Chicago court.

LOW RATES TO BRING BIG EXPOSITION TRAVEL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Their laborers over, the delegates to the meeting of the Transcontinental Passenger Association to fix rates for 1915 Panama Canal exposition traffic left for home today. They said they were satisfied the low rates from the East and Middle West insured enormous business next year.

We are permitted to quote from a letter from Geo. A. Smith to his brother Frank under date of March 23, as follows:

Corcoran, Cal., March 23, 1914.

"Dear Brother Frank:—Yours received. Glad to hear from you. I also received the fine magazine of Orange county published by one of your newspapers. I must say that it is the finest I ever saw. The publisher is certainly a booster of the highest class. He is to be complimented. I want a dozen more copies, no matter what they cost. Please get them for me if possible and send me the bill. I want them right away. Do not wait, as they will soon all be gone."

Frank Smith says his brother George is going East soon and believes in boosting for all parts of California—hence his desire for copies of the Register's big special edition.

Guy Wilson was painfully injured this morning as a result of a fall from a horse at the corner of Seventeenth and Duran streets. The horse became frightened at a passing automobile, reared and fell over backwards upon the rider, who is the sixteen-year-old son of Mrs. Bertha Wilson of 1518 Duran street. Young Wilson was taken to the home of Mrs. M. McElroy on Seventeenth street where Dr. Robertson, who was called, found that no bones were broken. Although severely bruised, the boy sustained no serious injuries.

REPORT FILED TODAY MANSUR CUTS CLAIM OF BANK OVER $3500

Determines to Call Back Letter of Assurance Given by General Gough

ONLY CHANCE TO STEM HIGH TIDE OF DEFEAT

Action if it Wins Will Retain French and Ewart for English Army

LONDON, March 28.—Premier Asquith plainly made up his mind today to assert himself in some way to rule the home rule situation, even if he wrecks the ministry. He had no definite progress to report, but has taken steps to insure speedy developments. It is reported on excellent authority that Asquith has summoned General Gough to surrender the written assurance that War Minister Seely gave him that troops would not be called out to fight in Ulster. This, it was said, would keep Field Marshal French and General Ewart, who have resigned, in the service. A refusal, it is said, would result in the prompt dismissal of General Gough. It is admitted that the situation will probably drive the present ministry out of office, but they have decided to take the risk.

Mansur's report includes a list of claims allowed by him. Sixty-six were presented to him, one was reduced, three were rejected and sixty-two were allowed as presented to him. Mansur's decision is not final. There is no reason why the bank cannot proceed in court to have its claim allowed for the full amount. The aggregate of claims, not including the bank's, as allowed, is $47,078.92. With the bank's claim, the total is $61,124.19. There is no report of assets yet filed, but they will not total over $9,000.

Mansur cut the bank's claim on the ground that the directors of the association never authorized the present note of $17,000 held by the bank. The books show a resolution authorizing the president and secretary to borrow $14,000 for the association. On March 9, 1911, a new note was made, it being for $17,000, and the old note of $14,000 was cancelled. The increased amount of the note was never taken through a directors' meeting, Ulm having put the raise through without the knowledge of the directors. Mansur took the view that the association is not liable for that extra $3,000 nor for interest upon it since March 9, 1911. The reduction altogether is $516.

Mansur rejected three claims, that of Mrs. C. B. Caving for $24; of Frank O. Calkins, $23; Mrs. E. M. Crandall, $7. It is understood that these claims were for a maturity fee, a fee of $1 a share paid at the time stock was issued supposed to be paid back when the stock matured. Mansur takes the view that the fee is not returnable in these instances because the stock never matured.

Of the sixty-two claims allowed as presented, one, that of the Worden Printing Company, was on a commercial bill against the association. All others were for either paid-up or installment stock. The small sums are mostly for installment stock.

The claims allowed follow:

Worden Printing Company, $12.50; E. S. Wallace, $9.80; H. C. Galloupe, $5,000; Mary H. Galloway, $1,000; Ida Jessen, $400; Elizabeth B. Allen, $2200; Frank O. Calkins, $216.97; Alexander Struthers, $2800; Jane Murdy, $2,000; Mina V. Butcher, $3400; Lucy B. Harlan, $2200; Abbie J. Ulm, $78.99; C. C. Lambert, $800; Virginia E. Wilfong, $38.32; Cleora Whitney, $26.44; Harry G. Whitney, $3,66; Mrs. G. B. Whitney, $6900; M. P. Westcott, $650; Mrs. Delle Martin, $25.98; John Bellister, $2,000; Emma M. Hill, $1230; Emma J. Forgy, $500; Harry Baade, $404.20; Thomas H. Sherrill, $11,74; Allen J. Lawton, $500; C. T. Johnson, $200; Mrs. Anna T. Cran dall, $200; Helen H. Whitney, $200; Blanche S. Forgy, trustee, $42.82; Blanche S. Forgy, $354.36; Charles F. Ball, $100; Andrew C. Getty, $179.80; D. G. McClay, $49.14; John D. Ball, $100; Dexter R. Ball, $100; Louisa M. Parker, $300; Arville Ball, $100; K. A. Rutherford, $128.32; Mitchell Brown estate, $1,000; M. J. Hoffman, $439.33; E. M. Crandall, $98.39; Mrs. Edna E. Cummings, $1400; Neal U. Brock, $1500; C. D. Ball, $827.71; W. C. Bryant, $100; Mrs. C. E. Brock, $2,000; Ella Noel, $1100; Minnie McCord, $77.67; Julia Stebbins, $100; Ethel Alderman, $786.70; Ida M. Lambert, $1020.51; J. A. Preston, $63.57; Mrs. Eugenia M. Crandall, $220.76; John A. McFadden, $77.74; Margurite Culver, $74.98; J. C. Lamb, $115.84; W. C. Roberts, $77; Nellie L. Lewis, $39.38; J. E. Bunker, $515.78; J. B. Nichols, $21.22. Total, $47,078.92.

Nothing has been done toward securing a compromise settlement of the affairs of the association further than that State Commissioner Walker has suggested a line of compromise that he thinks ought to be acceptable. He thought the directors ought to put up enough money to pay the bank and allow the shareholders fifty cents on the dollar.

Should the bank's claim be settled at $14,000 and the shareholders be allowed fifty cents on the dollar, the directors would have to dig up $57,500.

So far, however, no agreement of any kind has been reached to indicate how much, if any, the directors are willing to offer for a compromise settlement.

Of the federals, it is known that Generals Ricardo, Pena, and at least 800 men were killed, while Generals Eduardo Carranza and Andres Almanza, two of General Velasco's chief lieutenants, were fatally wounded. Villa lost none of his leading officers, though General Trinidad Rodriguez was badly wounded. Villa estimates his dead at 350.

The bombardment of Torreon has been incessant since last Sunday.

The federals have been unable to bury their dead. Early in the week an attempt was made to burn them, but for the past three days they lay where they fell. The weather is hot, and with the streets sprinkled with the bodies of human beings and horses, it is feared that an epidemic will come.

FIGHTING BEGINS AT TAMPICO

MEXICO CITY, March 28.—A battle between federals and rebels started at Tampico at midnight. According to messages today it is estimated that 1000 men have been killed in the fighting progressing at various places within the last few days, not including the dead at Torreon.

2500 CONSCRIPTS STARTED BY HUERTA TO TORREON

President Huerta today started 2500 recently drafted conscripts to Torreon. They included all sorts of male human beings, from old men and hardened criminals down to boys of school age, though few of them were ever at school.

HICKORY SWITCH CALLED BEST CIGARETTE CURE

CHICAGO, March 28.—Miss Lucy Page Gaston, Joan of Arc in the battle against cigarettes, must first convince mothers that her "mouth-swabbing" treatment will cure their young hopefuls before juvenile court will order all young cigarette users to have their mouths washed with a nitrate of silver solution. Judge Pinckney, to whom Miss Gaston appealed for a court order ordering juvenile delinquents to be thus baptised, said today that if he had a boy who smoked cigarettes he would experiment with the solution but didn't want to force it on the youngsters without their mothers' approval. "I put it up to one mother," said the court, "and she said she preferred the hickory switch solution."

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 28.—A new court designed to fill a gap between existing institutions, is to be Judge Thomas F. Scully's attempt at a solution of the boy problem. He will call it the "Boys' Court," and expects to have it in operation within a few weeks when the municipal judges give official sanction. Into the boys' court will be brought "youngsters" between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one years. The word "youngsters" was used by Judge Scully, who said today:

"A boy under twenty-one years of age can't vote and isn't recognized as a man when it comes to exercising judgment on candidates for alderman. But let him commit some petty crime and see what happens.

Because he is too old for the juvenile court, he is classified as a man and is arraigned in the municipal court with older offenders and receives the same treatment. What I propose to do is to establish a court that will meet a boy after he passes out of short trousers and just before he really becomes a man."

Ten per cent of the offenders arraigned in municipal court are boys. Judge Scully estimated today, and more than 10,000 lads who would come within the jurisdiction of his new court are tried in municipal court every year.

"Just a little touch of kindness is what most of these boys need," said Judge Scully. "Why, some of them are only sick—sometimes sick in body and sometimes only sickened by their environment. The other day a municipal court judge sent a seventeen-year-old boy to the county jail for some offense. My brother-in-law is a physician over there and he told me that the boy was sick—all he needed was an operation and he would be straight again."

Judge Scully has a reputation for leniency toward boys brought before him. "I have a little boy of my own," he said today. "Maybe that's the reason."

The "A-B-C" of Orange Real Estate

THE S. M. CRADDICK REALTY CO. of Orange have studied their A. B. C.'s in real estate values and conditions at Orange for over 27 years, and now present for the consideration of those looking for a location, either for a delightful Home, or a Ranch that will prove a paying investment, the best and surest bargains that we have ever been able to present before. "Of all the sad words of tongue or pen the saddest are these: 'I might have made that $5000 which Mr. Foresight made on the ranch he just sold. I was offered the ranch at $20,000, but was afraid to buy. He bought it eight months ago, and sold it yesterday at $25,000.'" Here are a few just as good:

"A"—10 acres, close in, frostless, all Valencias, about $4000 income past year. A real bargain at $24,000, only one-fourth cash.

"B"—10 acres one mile northeast, frostless, 1 acre navel, 9 acres Valencias, good house and barn, $16,500. Terms to suit.

"C"—10 acres frostless, one mile northeast, all bearing Valencias, in fine condition, young trees, but owner guarantees an income of $5000 for present crop; good buildings. Price $30,000. Terms. The above three places are splendid bargains, and we have a dozen similar groves, some of them for less money.

Why go away from Orange county for bargains? We hear of letter buys somewhere else. We also hear of the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow! There are hundreds of choice bargains right here in God's country.

"D"—100 acres choice silt soil, deep and rich, midway between Orange and Anaheim, 40 acres bearing soft shell walnuts, 40 acres bearing apricots, 20 acres planted and ready to plant to Valencia oranges. While loafing around in Orange county for the past six months looking for a better bargain, or for a place where I can put in some exchange—some eight or ten real bargains have been sold out from under my nose! Think I will now wake up, get in the swim, and prepare for 1915. If you don't want what you've got, trade it for what you want and don't got.

"G"—160 acres Tulare county, A-1 location. 55 acres alfalfa, 25 acres ready for alfalfa, 80 acres fenced for pasture, new $2000 house. Good pumping plant. This will take care of 100 cows. Will take orange grove or other property at Orange as part. Price $175 per acre.

THE MANGO: ITS POSSIBILITIES IN CALIFORNIA.

The Mango has been termed the "apple of the gods" for centuries held it sacred, and celebrates annual ceremonies in its honor. The great Mogul Akbar, who reigned in the sixteenth century, planted the famous Lak Bag, an orchard of a hundred thousand mangoes, and some of these still remain alive. It is a fruit the importance of which Americans are at last beginning to recognize, notwithstanding the unfortunate discredit which some of the worthless seedling mangoes of Mexico and the West Indies have given it in the minds of Americans generally.

Writing in the National Geographic Magazine Mr. David Fairchild, in charge of the agricultural explorations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, says of the mango that country:

"The mango is one of the really great fruits of the world. India, with its hundreds of millions of people, can be eaten with a spoon as easily during the ripening of the fruit; are shipped from the mango-growing centers of India and distributed in the densely populated cities of that great semi-tropic empire; and yet, notwithstanding the great importance of this fruit, the agricultural study of it from the new standpoint has scarcely begun. I believe that it has never, for example, been tested on any but its own roots."

Prof. C. V. Piper, agricultural explorer of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, writes as follows of the mango in the Government Botanical Gardens, Saharanpur, India:

"Saharanpur is only a short distance from the Himalayan foothills, and the mercury commonly goes down to about 20 degrees in the winter. It is on this account that both tropical and temperate trees can be grown here successfully. It is quite strange to see cherries, plums, pears and even apples growing alongside mangoes, dates, guavas, etc. in a general way it is comparable to Chico, California, so far as temperature is concerned, possibly a little hotter in the summer, and hardly as cool in the winter. Judging from this place, why won't mangos do well in California?"

Past experiments with the mango in California have been largely confined to the coast regions—at Hollywood, Sherman, Santa Barbara, near Santa Ana and Sierra Madre; and although most of the trees planted have been of poor variety they have demonstrated the fact that it will flourish under California conditions.

The oldest known tree was planted from seed obtained in Guatemala, a little over thirty years ago; the greatest success in production of mature fruit has been obtained at Sierra Madre, where the summers are hotter than in any of the other locations.

The future of the mango in California rests on the production of varieties adapted to California conditions, and everything points to its successful commercial production in the interior citrus districts of the state as soon as such kinds have been thoroughly tested out.

The cultivation of the mango is receiving quite a good deal of attention in Florida, and plantings of considerable size have been made. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has already started work along the line of trying out those varieties which give promise of proving best adapted to our climatic conditions, and further work along these lines by the individual fruit grower would seem to be more than warranted by the results already obtained in the limited number of instances where the mango has been planted in California to differ materially in taste."

The same method of picking and ripening is reported from Java, where, it is claimed, that even though hard and flavorless when picked, the artificial ripening renders them tender and full flavored in a few days.

It is undoubtedly one of the fruits well worth the attention of the California fruit grower, and there are without question large areas in the thermal belt well adapted to its culture.

From the fact that the mango shows so much promise in Florida it is also more than probable that varieties will be found which will fruit well in the coastal regions of California, as well as in the hotter and drier interior valleys of the state.

It is undoubtably one of the fruits well worth the attention of the California fruit grower, and there are without question large areas in the thermal belt well adapted to its culture.

"A few degrees of frost which the mango tree will stand is unquestionably a question of variety and the climatic conditions under which it has been produced. Woodrow, in his "The Mango: Its Culture and Varieties," gives the experience in India as follows:

"A few degrees of frost for a short time may destroy the leaves and young branches, and an occasional blizzard giving 10 degrees Fahrenheit below freezing point may destroy branches as thick as the forearm, but on these being pruned off the trees are little worse for the low temperature."

It is generally conceded by authorities that the mango flourishes best where ample summer heat is present

GARDEN GROVE, March 27.—Chili planting has begun and a very large acreage will be put in this season. Almost all of the growers contract their entire crop before planting. It is shipped to a great many different states, large quantities going to the eastern and southern states. Some of the growers ship to the East in carload lots, as well as to the commission merchants in California. Chili powder is made from the culls and it is shipped to many states. It is largely used for chicken feed.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens
So Naturally that Nobody Can Tell

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Advertisement.

NO SPECIFIC CURE FOR TUBERCULOSIS

National Association and United States
Public Health Service Denounce
Fakes—Will Start Crusade of Suppression

In spite of the statements of a number of individuals who have recently claimed that they have found a "cure" for consumption, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the highest authority on this disease in America, in a bulletin just published, declares there is no information at hand to justify the belief that any specific cure for tuberculosis has been discovered which deserves the confidence of the medical profession.

Backing up these statements, the United States Public Health Service declares that outside of the three essentials in the treatment of consumption, namely rest, fresh air, and good food, "there is no drug known, however rare or expensive it may be, that has any curative action in this disease, and all remedies advertised as such are to be avoided. Patent cough medicines are harmful; radium, X-rays or electricity in any of its forms have no specific value in tuberculosis of the lungs. No serum has yet been found that will cure it, and there is no plaster or poultice which has an effect on the disease itself."

The National Association is planning in the near future to institute an extensive campaign for the suppression of the numerous fake consumption cures, which are annually cheating the public of the United States out of no less than $15,000,000 and besides are depriving numerous victims of the chance for a real cure. Consumers who are taking remedies of this character will be warned through advertisements against the danger of such procedure.

Any person desiring information with regard to consumption cures or the treatment of tuberculosis may obtain literature and advice from the office of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 East Twenty-second street, New York City.

Buffalo Bill and the Circus are Coming Here

Every once in a while Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), who is to appear here Tuesday, April 7, with the combination of the Sells-Floto Circus and Buffalo Bill (himself), tells a story. And usually that story, in addition to being funny, is on himself. Such is the case—but here's the yarn.

"Ask any one of these Indians with the show, and he'll tell you that he has a great respect for the United States regular soldier," said Col. Cody recently. "However, I found out once that there's a difference between the respect for the regular and for the militia man."

"It was during the War of the Sioux, which of moving pictures recently were made. I had been a scout in the Dakotas, but when I came back to Pine Ridge I occupied the position of brigadier general of the Nebraska militia. Naturally, I had on plenty of uniform, and the first Indian who saw me became interested.

"You big general now, Pahaska?" he asked, and my chest rose with the compliment.

"Yup! I said, 'I'm a big general.'

"Heap big general?" "Oh, bigger than that. Heap, heap big general."

"Heap big general—like Bear Coat (General Miles)?"

"Yep, heap big general, like Bear Coat."

"Heap big general regular army?"

"No, heap big general, militia. Milish, you know; milish."

"And when I said that sentence, the Indian looked at me again, curled his lip and wiggled his fingers at his nose."

"Heap big shucks!" he said, and walked away."

And now as the man in the side-show would say, passing on from these few remarks, there comes the information that Col. Cody, America's best beloved citizen, will lead the great parade of the Sells-Floto-Buffalo Bill combination as a special honor to this city, when it comes here April 7. In the performance he will present an entirely new spectacle, entitled "Warpath," which will present the progress of civilization from the frontier times to the present day. And the price for the whole performance remains the same as it was in former years, 25 cents, with seats for 14,000 persons.

AN EXPERIMENT WITH TUBERCULOSIS

The problems presented by the widespread existence of tuberculosis in dairy cattle are manifold. They bear on human experience in connection with the hygiene of the milk-supply, which is assuredly a matter of no small concern to all classes of society. The question of tuberculosis in cattle involves the economics of agriculture to a far greater degree than the uninitiated can appreciate; for the disease has manifested itself so widely that the hope of complete eradication must be deferred for a long time, to say the least. Furthermore, the outcome of the management of tuberculosis herds may point the way for advantageous applications in the field of human treatment or prevention.

In view of the enormous practical difficulties in the way of the complete eradication of tuberculosis in cattle by the wholesale slaughter of all animals known to be infected with tuberculosis, schemes for utilizing the latter have been devised. The most prominent of these is the system whereby tuberculous cows are isolated and used for breeding purposes, the calves being removed from the mothers at the earliest moment and brought up without further exposure to the disease. This has been rendered possible by the finding that such young are regularly born in perfect health, and entirely free from tuberculosis. The affected breeding cattle in this way do not become an entire economic loss. A ten-year investigation, carefully verified and supervised by government officials, has just been reported by Brooks in connection with what is probably one of the most valuable herds of Holstein-Friesian cattle in the world.

The object was to produce a herd of Holstein cattle free from tuberculosis taint and yet endowed with all the most valuable strain-characteristics possessed by this breed. Animals were selected because of their desirability, entirely independent of the presence or absence of tuberculosis. The tuberculous animals greatly outnumbered the non-tuberculous. Three hundred tuberculous animals were studied. The existence of tuberculosis was determined by the administration of treble the official dose of tuberculin, repeated in non-reacting animals three times at intervals of six months. All animals reacting to either test were removed at once to the tuberculous farm so that there was no possibility of the transmission of infection from the tuberculous group to the healthy one. At birth the calves are immediately taken from the mother. Feedings are on pasteurized milk collected indiscriminately from sound and tuberculous animals.

Of more than two hundred calves born of the tuberculous herd, not one has become tuberculous, although all have been tested three times by massive doses of tuberculin. These animals are rather more resistant to tuberculosis than animals born of non-tuberculous parents. No falling off in type, in milk production or fertility is present in these calves, no increase in death-rate exists among them as compared with the offspring of healthy cattle, no falling off in value takes place, and several of the most valuable cows and bulls in the world are of this ancestry. These facts, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, remain constant even where at least three generations of known tuberculous parents exist.

PREFERENTIAL CANAL TOLLS

Contributed to the "Register" by E. E. Keech

The commercial bodies of this coast are interested and active in the matter of the proposed repeal by Congress of the preferential tolls given to American coastwise trade through the Panama Canal.

There is a very laudable and proper sentiment prevalent, that America should run her own affairs, and that American ships should be favored wherever practicable. But there seems to be almost an entire absence from the press of any statement, or even discussion, of the real grounds of objection to the repeal, which I understand, are as follows.

1. The United States by specific and solemn treaty obligations with England, has agreed:

"The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise."

2. This nation must uphold the Monroe Doctrine and maintain its leadership of the entire western hemisphere. But the plain violation of our treaty obligations by these discriminating toll charges has shaken, if not destroyed, the confidence and alienated the sympathy of every other civilized power in the world. So that, instead of being left free to pilot the progress of civilization and liberty on this account, we will be combined against, hedged in and possibly thwarted in that purpose, unless we promptly retract our mistaken steps in violation of our solemn treaty obligations.

The great masses of our citizens are fair and honest and desire to know and do what is right in this matter. I have been asked by a number for information on the subject, and it has been suggested it be given through the press.

In 1850 the United States had just acquired California, completing its conquering march across the continent until it lay with two great ocean coasts, looking toward Europe on the east and Asia on the west. It needed a ship canal through the Isthmus to connect these widely separated coasts. By the treaty of 1846 with New Granada (now Colombia), we had rights under which we might be able to cross the Isthmus of Panama. But at that time, and until 1899, the United States considered that route impracticable, and desired and route to secure a canal either along the Nicaragua route or by way of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec in Mexico.

At that time, 1850, Great Britain had practically all of North America to the north of us, with extended and important coast lines upon both oceans. She also had in the Caribbean Sea, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Trinidad, the Windward Islands, the Leeward Islands, British Guiana, British Honduras and a protectorate over the Mosquito Coast, through which the Nicaragua route lay. We had nothing except our supposed valueless concessions from Granada. The Nicaragua route was considered the only practicable and desirable route.

Under these conditions the United States earnestly sought and gladly secured from Great Britain the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, the eighth article of which provided:

"The Governments of the United States and Great Britain having not only desired, in entering into this convention, to accomplish a particular object, but also to establish a general principle, they hereby agree to extend their protection, by treaty stipulation, to any other practicable communications, whether by canal or railway, across the isthmus which connects North and South America, and especially to the interoceanic communications, should the same prove to be practicable, whether by canal or railway, which are now proposed to be established by the way of Tehuantepec or Panama. In granting, however, their joint protection to any such canals or railways as are by this article specified, it is always understood by the United States and Great Britain that the parties constructing or owning the same shall impose no other charges or conditions of traffic thereupon than the aforesaid Governments shall approve of as just and equitable; and that the same canals or railways, being open to the citizens and subjects of the United States and Great Britain on equal terms, shall also be open on like terms to the citizens and subjects of every other state which is willing to grant thereto such protection as the United States and Great Britain engage to afford."

In 1879 Count de Lesseps, having just successfully completed the Suez canal, secured the organization, under French law, of the Universal Inter-oceanic Canal Company, a concession from Colombia, and undertook the construction of a sea level canal across the Isthmus of Panama. But the unhealthfulness of the climate and the difficulties of the work were so great that by 1890 $245,000,000 had been expended, the French company had been bankrupted, de Lesseps had died in disgrace and the project had been practically abandoned.

Meanwhile, the United States had been constantly agitating and working for the canal across the isthmus, several commissions having surveyed and reported upon the Nicaragua and other routes. By a final commission, presided over by Admiral Walker, under the instructions of Congress, extensive and thorough examinations, surveys and estimates were made of both the Nicaragua and Panama routes, and an elaborate report presented to Congress at the close of the last century.

The Congress and people of the United States became convinced that a canal could be built, and should be built, owned and operated by the United States alone. But the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, with its provisions for joint control with Great Britain, stood in the way. For the purpose of removing the obstacle, we again sought and secured a treaty from Great Britain, known as the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which was ratified in 1901. It expressly provided for the preservation of the provisions of Article 8 of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, above quoted; also that the canal might be:

"Constructed under the auspices of the Government of the United States, either directly at its own cost or by gift or loan of money to individuals or corporations or through subscription or purchase of stock or shares."

Also that, subject to the provisions of that treaty, the United States:

"Should have and enjoy all the rights incident to such construction, as well as the exclusive right of providing for the regulation and management of the canal."

This treaty also provided that the United States adopt, as the basis of the neutralization of the canal, certain rules, substantially as embodied in the treaty for the free navigation of the Suez Canal, the first of which was:

"First. The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and war of all nations on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic, or otherwise."

While the treaty was before the United States senate for approval, Senator Bard of California moved the following amendment to this rule:

"The United States reserves the right, in the regulation and management of the canal, to discriminate in respect of the charges of traffic in favor of vessels of its own citizens engaged in a coastwise trade."

The senate rejected the amendment and ratified the treaty.

The foregoing facts are stated without discussion or argument, so that all of your readers may be left free to determine whether the United States can honorably or fairly discriminate in the matter of tolls in favor of their own coastwise trade. In another article, I will take up the second reason for the repeal of the discriminatory tolls.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, March 2.—One of the weeks pronounced successes was Edward Pele's new musical farce, "A Pair of Sixes," produced by H. H. Frazee at the Longacre Theater. The piece, which received a prolonged road try-out on the Atlantic coast, came to Broadway with its success assured.

The action of the comedy is based on the Potash &amp; Perlmutter-esque quarrels of two young men, partners in the Eureka Digestive Pill Company.

Broadway managers have found that economy in the production of a new play is a poor policy. This season, in particular, has demonstrated that the only way to put a play across is to engage for it the very best cast obtainable. After a play has had a successful run, it may be carried on by actors of minor reputations, but for the premiere it has become necessary to have a very nearly all-star cast to insure success. A. H. Woods admitted this when he got together one of the strongest companies Broadway ever saw to put on "The Yellow Ticket" at the Eltinge. Frazee followed the same precept in "A Pair of Sixes." In the company are Hale Hamilton, Ann Murdoch, Ivy Troutman, George Parsons, George Howard, Geraldine Beckwith and many others of the same calibre.

While "The Last Resort" did reasonably well, it did not come up to the $6000 mark and Frazee exercised his option.

John Bunny, though whose face no physiognomy is known to more people all over the world, has insured himself against beauty. Bunny's face is his fortune, all right, but not in the usual sense of that phrase. Bunny is as ugly as the proverbial mud fence and he is proud of it. He always safeguards his homeliness, because he knows that it is the thing that makes him the highest priced moving picture actor in the business. His insurance against beauty followed a casual conversation with a friend in one of the Broadway restaurants in which he was told he was getting handsome.

NAVAL CELEBRATION AT WILMINGTON, APRIL 11

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Everything that can get up steam in the shape of a vessel of war, anywhere near Los Angeles, will be sent to take part in the celebration at Wilmington on April 11. Secretary of the Navy Daniels gave this assurance yesterday to Congressman Stephens. Through the Los Angeles representative in the House the Chamber of Commerce asked the Navy Department to take official notice of the Wilmington celebration and send such submarines, torpedo-boats and other craft as it might be possible to assign for that duty.

The Secretary not only assented but said that the armored cruiser Cleveland, which is now outfitting at Mare Island, to be sent south with a crew of 600 men, would be diverted, if possible, to make Wilmington by the 11th.

"Everything now goes to indicate that we shall have a naval demonstration which will be well worth going many miles to see," said Congressman Stephens this evening.

MAN RICHER THAN ROCKEFELLER NEAR DEATH IN PASADENA

PASADENA, Cal., March 28.—Frederick Weyerhauser, the "lumber king," said to be a richer man than John D. Rockefeller, lies at the point of death here today. Information from private sources indicate that he is not expected to live through today. The physicians would neither confirm or deny the reports. Frederick Weyerhauser, Jr., is expected to arrive from St. Paul tonight. All the other members of the family are already here.

HIGH RENT PROBLEM IS SOLVED IN SERVIA

BELGRADE, Servia, March 28.—Servia is confident it has just successfully solved the problem of soaring rents. Following the two recent Balkan wars in which Servia doubled its territory at the expense of Turkey and Bulgaria, there was an influx of population into Belgrade that caused rents to go up to an all but prohibitive point.

A new law by parliament went into effect today doubling the taxes on all unoccupied houses and apartments which it is confidently believed will cause landlords at least to think twice before refusing a tenant who cannot pay as much as the landlord would like.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

AN "OLD TYME" PARTY

Ladies Gowned in Days of Long Gone Time Were Guests of Mrs. C. F. Crose

Gowned in the fashion of years ago and with her beautiful white hair done in the style of the same period—the time when hoop skirts were in vogue—Mrs. C. F. Crose yesterday afternoon received guests at an "old tyme party" given by her at the handsome Crose home on Cypress avenue. In the quaint costume, which included the hoop skirt, Mrs. Crose presented a most attractive appearance and was overwhelmed with deserved compliments. In her invitations, Mrs. Crose requested her guests to either bring or wear "something old," and as they responded unanimously, many quaint and really beautiful costumes were seen. The skirts of the dresses were full, and each lady looked pretty and graceful in her old time costume.

Old fashioned flowers were used in the effective house decorations to which the finishing touch of beauty was given by the lovely wistaria used to drape the archways between the rooms, and in other available places. The shades were drawn and candles were lighted and in the soft illumination the scene was delightfully picturesque and engaging. A spectator might have imagined that time had been turned back to the halcyon days before the war."

Exceedingly interesting were the relics of earlier days that were grouped on the library table. There were books to be seen that dated back to 1833, pewter sugar bowls and pitchers, old fashioned tiddles, ancient pictures, and so on through an exciting array of long ago curios.

Carrying the idea of "auld lang syne" into the table appointments, Mrs. Crose had spread her dining table with home-spun table cloths, and used dear old fashioned dishes in the appointments. As the ladies in their fetching attire tripped to their places at the table, when the delectable refreshments were served, each was given a nosegay of old-fashioned flowers by dainty little Miss Ninette Rowland, granddaughter of the hostess.

During the afternoon each guest was given a patchwork piece, or rather the material for it, to be put together in a stated time and in as neat a manner as possible. Judges were appointed and when time was called, it was found that Mrs. E. M. Nealey and Mrs. P. L. Tople had tied on neatness, with Mrs. Parsons of Chicago completing her work in the shortest time. She was given the trophy for swiftness, and Mrs. Nealey won the prize for neatness, successfully cutting with Mrs. Tople. A highly enjoyed feature of the afternoon was a musical program beautifully presented by the hostess and her talented sister-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Crose, and Mrs. Jack Crose. The entire afternoon was a most charming one, like a leaf from an old and dear romance. The guests unanimously congratulated Mrs. Crose on the clever inspiration that had led to so delightful a result.

For Her Birthday

Miss Inez Crane was the central figure in a pretty dinner given at the Crane home on East Second street last evening in honor of her birthday. Dinner was served in five courses at 6 o'clock, and the table was daintily appointed. Red roses clustered in a cut-glass vase occupied the table's center, and a beautifully ornamented birthday cake was the chief attraction of the tempting feast. A feature of the dinner was the tiny cakes at each place that were decorated with the birthday date. Covers were laid for eight, a trio of friends outside of the family circle enjoying the family hospitality of this auspicious occasion.

GAY POSTPONED PARTY

Event Planned for Saint Patrick's Day, Duly Came Off Last Evening

Over seventy invitations were issued by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Abbott for a joyfully successful evening at their charming El Modena home last night. The event was planned some time ago, during the seasons made gay by the dominance of St. Patrick, but was unavoidably postponed. However, the St. Patrick's motif was cherished in mind and appeared in the decorations last evening. Smilax and Cherokee roses were used lavishly, the chandeliers, mantels and piano being adorned with the greenery, and the roses used effectively wherever possible. The cosy home was fairly radiant with the pretty deckings.

A merry game announced as "St. Patrick" was played progressively and its progress was marked by jest and laughter. J. G. Morrow was the successful aspirant for first prize in the jolly games and Jasper Osborn had to be content with the trophy given for the "booby" score.

The evening was made further enjoyable by a well rendered reading given by Miss Virgil Potts, and a sweetly sung vocal number from Mrs. Nat. Neff. Following the music and the evening was the welcome accorded each of the guests by little Miss Helen Stearns, a cousin of the hostess. The charming small girl was dressed to represent a shamrock leaf, and most cunning was her appearance.

The trip to the Abbott home at El Modena was made by automobile, the cars appearing from all directions in the earlier part of the evening. Every one fortunate enough to be there had a feeling of being more than repaid for braving the threatening and rainy elements of the weather.

Duplicate Whist

Mesdames James Rice, Fred Rafferty, Alice Harris, W. L. Tubbs, H. G. Hull, Arthur Lyon, Sherman Stevens, A. J. Padgham, W. E. Winslow and Misses Rosa Boyd and Charlotte Dresser were the members of the Duplicate Whist Club entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Turner. Dainty refreshments closed the club meeting.

Planned to Give Tea

The regular meeting of Shiloh Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R., held Thursday afternoon, was well attended and much satisfactory business was transacted. Two new members were added to the roll and cordially welcomed. Plans were also made by the ladies to hold a tea early in the month of April.

Luncheon for Sister

Mrs. Carl Strock was hostess at a handsome luncheon given Thursday for her sister, Mrs. Schuey of Sioux City, Iowa, who is her house guest. Gold of Ophir roses were used in decorations, and place cards with designs in the rose that and yellow shaded candelabra were used to adorn the table. Needlework and music followed the luncheon.

Mrs. Strock's guests included Mesdames Fred Rowland, O. H. Egge, H. S. Kittle, W. L. Deimling, L. L. Whitson, Will Flood, Mrs. Lloyd Messler of Anaheim, Mrs. Roy Rorsy of Los Angeles, Mrs. Schuey.

SCANTY CLOTHING SHOCKS QUEEN ELIZABETH

BRUSSELS, March 28.—So shocked was Queen Elizabeth at the scantiness of attire worn by a number of women at the last court ball that she has persuaded King Albert to appoint an official dress censor. This functionary, one of the court chamberlains, to be appointed, has been instructed to stand at the door at all future court entertainments and refuse admission to any woman whose decolleté is too deep or the split of whose skirt is too high. Several of the gowns complained of by her majesty were slit to the knee, while the corsages were extravagantly scant as well as flimsy.

MISS TYLER FINALLY LOSES POSTOFFICE JOB

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Miss Mattie R. Tyler, grand-daughter of former President Tyler, who appealed personally to White House officials yesterday to continue her as postmistress at the little town of Courtland, Va., will be succeeded by B. A. Williams, it was announced last night by First Assistant Postmaster-General Roper.

Failure on the part of Miss Tyler to take the recently ordered civil service examination, rather than alleged efforts of a "clique of Washington politicians," was the department's explanation of its action.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

On the produce market and exchange, there were no real features during the day. The demand for products was a little better than normal, but not sufficient to create price changes. Butter hung steady with report of a rise of  $\frac{1}{2}$  cent in the northern market, making the quotation there also 23 cents a pound for creamery extra. Receipts of this product were 28,265 pounds. Egg arrivals were 620 cases. This was only local stock and about the same number of cases were reported in from the north.

Yucaipa

Come right up to the valley this week while we are setting the trees in the Santa Ana and Orange Orchards.

See what is going on in the valley. See the promise of big crops. Investigate for yourself and then you will know if the great claims made for Yucaipa are justified by the facts. Do not depend on rumors and wild statements mostly made about other tracts and mixed up with our proposition.

The Redlands & Yucaipa Land Company's tract has the two big water systems, the finest in Southern California. Come and get up-to-date information. No wonder over FOUR HUNDRED of these fruit ranches have been sold during the last three years. And right here in Southern California, only 64 miles from Santa Ana. No other development in all this southland equals it. Do not think of making an investment till you have seen Yucaipa. One day—up in the morning, back in the evening—any day. Call at our office. Go to 209 Orange street, Redlands, and tell them you want to see the Santa Ana and Orange Orchards and they will bring you up in the big automobile, free.

CAMPBELL WINS DISPUTE OVER THE PUMP

Doub't Verdict Gives Plaintiff $1948.38 and Defendant $1066.66

THE ORANGE GROWER CALLS IT A VICTORY

Action Brought on Jefferson School Contract Three Years Ago Ends

After six hours of deliberation, the jury that heard the seven days' testimony in the case of Smith, Booth, Usher Company of Los Angeles against D. F. Campbell, an orange grower of Orange, brought in a verdict giving $1948.38 to the plaintiff and $1066.66 to the defendant. The result is considered a distinct victory for Campbell.

The action grew out of difficulties over a pumping plant installed on Campbell's ranch by the Smith, Booth, Usher Company. Campbell declared that the plant was defective and was installed in such a manner that the engine knocked continually. For these defects Campbell asked damages, and upon that score the jury awarded him $678.06. Campbell also alleged that the pump company

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

SANTA ANA Y. M. C. A. SAYS FAREWELL TO ONE COUNTY SECRETARY, WELCOMES NEW

Saying farewell to R. J. Hamilton, the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. last night welcomed E. M. Brown, new secretary of the county Y. M. C. A. Hamilton, retiring county secretary, leaves for Whittier on April 1, after twenty-eight months of work here.

It was with a great deal of pleasure that those who attended the annual banquet of the Y. M. C. A. last night noted that the new county secretary had the attributes that go to make up a good man for the job. He proved to be a good mixer, a likable fellow, a natural leader, and when he spoke it was with an earnestness and ease that brought him close to his hearers.

A splendid supper was served in the basement of the United Presbyterian Church by the ladies of that church. The room had been prettily decorated with greenery and roses. On the tables long branches of Gold of Ophir roses were used.

During the evening several much-appreciated numbers were rendered by the Y. M. C. A. quartet, W. A. Zimmerman, toastmaster, called upon Harry Lewis, a member of the county Y. M. C. A. executive committee, to tell of the county work.

Lewis said that he felt that the work had been more than successful and that a great deal of good had been accomplished, and that the money spent in the county Y. M. C. A. work had accomplished as much or more good than money put into the church.

"The county Y. M. C. A. has been making Christians," said he. "We feel that our summer camps are the best thing we have. At those camps under experienced Christian leaders the boys become interested in living Christian lives, and on returning home they are looked after by the Y. M. C. A. secretary, who endeavors to keep them interested in living right."

Lewis said that the best results in the county work have been secured with boys from 14 to 16 years of age. A. E. Bennett of Tustin, another executive committee man, reviewed some of the work, and said that soon subscriptions must be taken for the work for another year. He said that if the Christians understood how much actual good work had been done there would be no difficulty in getting the money.

Lecture Course

Toastmaster Zimmerman called on Parry Warne, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Warne declared that he believes the Chamber of Commerce should take up boosting for a Y. M. C. A. building. He said that the entertainment course had been successful and that next year a far better course would be given. The Y. M. C. A. had demonstrated this season that it can make good, clean entertainment successful. Those who will buy tickets to the course next year should make that fact known at once.

The toastmaster stated that in the last year through R. R. Smith of the Y. M. C. A. employment bureau over 200 persons had been given employment.

The reports of Martin Warren, general secretary, and Charles Tidball, treasurer, were received, showing that the entertainment course so far has netted about $30 over expenses. There are now 615 members of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

Praises Hamilton

Toastmaster Zimmerman read an original poem addressed to R. J. Hamilton, and followed it up with praise for the work of the secretary of the county Y. M. C. A. Zimmerman said Hamilton had shown himself to be a moral leader and an excellent worker. For the executive committee, Zimmerman presented a horseshoe pin set with pearls.

In responding, Hamilton expressed his appreciation of the gift. He reviewed the work accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. under his leadership during the last two and a half years. He said that he thought one of the best things done was the establishment of the Triangle League in the schools of the county through which 4800 sign-

Notice to Our Customers!

ON APRIL 1ST, 1914, THREE IMPORTANT CHANGES IN OUR BUSINESS SYSTEM WILL GO INTO EFFECT, AS FOLLOWS: NO MORE SOLICITING—FREE DELIVERY RESTRICTED TO CERTAIN HOURS—A MORE STRICT CREDIT SYSTEM.

NO SOLICITORS—The custom of sending out men to take orders, has become one of the big items of expense in our business and in future no solicitors will be sent out.

FREE DELIVERY—Heretofore we have made deliveries large and small at all hours. In future our deliveries will leave the store at 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. All orders received before 10 a. m. will be delivered before noon, and all orders received after 10 a. m. will be held for the afternoon delivery, which leaves at 4 o'clock.

CREDIT—Hereafter all monthly accounts must be paid promptly on the first of each month. Five days grace will be given in which to make settlement, but after that no further extension of credit will be made.

The expense of soliciting, extra delivering and losses from bad accounts, which we expect to eliminate by this change of system, will be of benefit to our customers as well as ourselves, inasmuch as it will enable us to sell goods at lower prices.

The high quality of our goods will be maintained, but by these changes we can sell many lines at much lower prices.

Claude Swift, from the Southern California University in Los Angeles, spent last Saturday and Sunday with Serna on a charge of getting money on false pretenses, and he thinks that the method used by Serna was an attempt on Serna's part to get even with Klatt for charging Serna $2 for breaking a shovel.

Serna has been arrested, and is in jail. The complaint charges that he cut wood for Klatt by the cord, and that he piled uncut and unsplit stumps on the ground and corded cut wood around them. Thus it is alleged that Serna defrauded Klatt.

Serna was paid $13. When he was brought into court by Constable Jackson this morning, Serna declared that Klatt was to blame for all of the trouble.

Serna said that in grubbing out a tree he had used Klatt's shovel, and the shovel was broken. Klatt held out $2 for the shovel. Serna said the shovel was not worth nearly $2 when it was new, and it was not new.

Justice Cox set Serna's trial for next Tuesday, and when he issued subpoenas in the case he gave Constable Jackson instructions to have Klatt produce the broken implement in court.
